SUBJECT: Irregular Warfare (IW)

1. PURPOSE. This directive:

a. Reissues DoD Directive (DoDD) 3000.07 (Reference (a)) to establish policy and assign responsibilities for DoD conduct of IW and development of capabilities to address irregular challenges or threats to national security in accordance with DoDD 5100.01 (Reference (b)).

b. Requires that any conflicting issuances be identified to the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy (USD(P)) and the Director of Administration.

2. APPLICABILITY. This directive applies to OSD, the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (CJCS) and the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities within the DoD (referred to collectively in this directive as the "DoD Components").

3. POLICY. It is DoD policy that:

a. IW is as strategically important as traditional warfare and DoD must be equally capable in both. Many of the capabilities and skills required for IW are applicable to traditional warfare, but their role in IW can be proportionally greater.

b. DoD will be proficient in IW.

c. IW is conducted independently of, or in combination with, traditional warfare.

(1) IW can include any relevant DoD activity and operation such as counterterrorism; unconventional warfare; foreign internal defense; counterinsurgency; and stability operations that, in the context of IW, involve establishing or re-establishing order in a fragile state or territory.

(2) While these activities, whether undertaken in sequence, in parallel, or in blended form, may occur across the full range of military operations, the balance or primary focus of operations gives a campaign its predominant character.

(3) Before, during, and after IW and traditional warfare, various programs, missions, and activities can occur that shape the environment and serve to deter or prevent war. These may include military engagement, security cooperation, deterrence activities, cyberspace operations, military information support operations (MISO), strategic communication, and civil military operations.

d. Concepts and capabilities relevant to IW will be incorporated across all DoD activities, including:

(1) Doctrine, organization, training, materiel, leadership and education, personnel, and facilities, policy (DOTMLPF-P).

(2) Assessments.

(3) Analysis.

(4) Exercises.

(5) Experiments.

(6) Applicable strategies and plans.

e. When directed, DoD is able to:

(1) Identify and prevent, contain, or defeat irregular challenges or threats from state and non-state actors across operational areas and environments.

(2) Extend U.S. reach into denied areas and uncertain environments by operating with and through foreign forces or entities.

(3) Train, advise, and assist foreign security forces and partners at the ministerial, service, and tactical levels to ensure security in their sovereign territory or to contribute forces to operations elsewhere, in accordance with DoD Instruction (DoDI) 5000.68 (Reference (c)).

a. (Added) (AF) The USAF conducts Security Force Assistance primarily working with and through partner nation personnel via air advising to enable them to apply air power in support of their own security and governance needs as well as Combatant Command requirements. Air Advisor operations are task-organized to provide enduring capabilities deliberately planned, synchronized, and integrated with other security cooperation activities to achieve U.S. campaign objections. Air Advisors assess, train, advise, assist, and equip partner air forces in the employment, sustainment, and integration of their aviation forces with surface forces and coalition partners. Air Advising operations and activities align with Security Force Assistance to organize, train, equip, rebuild/build, and advise/assist framework, doctrine, and guidance.

(4) Support a foreign government or population threatened by irregular adversaries.

(5) Create a secure environment in fragile states.

(6) Meet Combatant Commander (CCDR) objectives by conducting other related activities abroad, which can include: civil-military, intelligence, counterintelligence, space, cyber-space, counter threat finance, MISO, strategic communication, and providing support to foreign governance and law enforcement entities.

f. DoD policy and programs will increase DoD effectiveness in operating with and through foreign security partners.

g. Manpower authorizations, personnel policies, foreign language and cultural capabilities, and organizational structures will provide sufficient capacity and expertise in both the DoD civilian workforce and Military Services to conduct activities in support of IW.

h. Appropriate DoD IW-related activities will be integrated with the efforts of other U.S. Government (USG) agencies, foreign security partners, and selected international organizations by supporting:

(1) Combined policies, plans, and procedures, including collaborative training, education, and exercises that promote interoperability.

(2) Integrated civilian-military teams.

(3) Information strategies and operations to neutralize adversary propaganda and promote U.S. strategic interests.

(4) Efforts to enhance information sharing, as appropriate, to synchronize planning, execution, and transition of IW activities and maintain the shared understanding of the operational environment required to counter irregular challenges or threats.

(5) Integration of collective requirements and capabilities into unified planning efforts to optimize development and employment of capabilities.

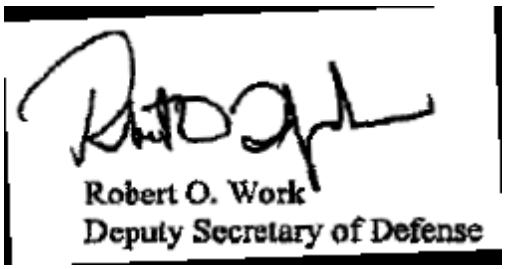

(6) Provision of essential governmental services, emergency infrastructure restoration, and humanitarian relief, if directed.

i. Investment strategy guidance addresses capability and capacity for IW-related activities and operations.

4. RESPONSIBILITIES. See Enclosure 2.
