SUMMARY OF CHANGES

Changes include updated references, office symbols, responsibilities, and composition of the FMB.

1. Overview. Directorates submit, review, and validate all budget estimates, financial plans, and other fiscal actions to 19th Air Force Financial Management (19 AF/FM) prior to their presentation to the 19 AF Corporate Process. Upon receipt of Initial Distribution (ID), 19 AF/FM determines if it meets funding requirement for the year. If determined it is short of funding, then Directorates assist in preparing the justification for funding requirements. Funding requirements fall into one of two categories:

1.1. Must Pay. A requirement that will cause mission failure if not funded, for example, civilian pay, expert witnesses, contract renewals and some temporary duty requirements.

1.2. Mission Critical. A requirement that is necessary to accomplish the mission effectively. However, if funding is not obtained, the organization's mission can still be accomplished although not at the most effective level. Examples of such requirements are travel, training, and automated data processing equipment or information technology equipment.

2. Roles and Responsibilities. Maximum use of financial resources available to the Numbered Air Force (NAF) must be realized to ensure mission accomplishment. 19 AF/FM and the 19 AF Corporate Process assist the 19th Air Force Commander (19 AF/CC) in the effective application of financial management responsibilities. 19 AF/FM provides the necessary staff support to assist them in the management of all financial programs.

3. The 19 AF Corporate Process.

3.1. 19 AF/COE, 19 AF/FM and AETC execute resource processes designed to provide integrated deliverables in support of AETC and Air Staff resource related tasks associated with planning, programming, budgeting, and execution activities. Guidance for the individual processes will be published by 19AF/COE and 19 AF/FM as AETC and Air Staff guidance is released.

3.2. Processes must be participative, objective, and transparent to ensure prioritization of resource options are based upon objective criteria and aligned with 19 AF, AETC and Air Force Strategy. Throughout the 19 AF corporate process, all discussions, drills, and products are considered pre-decisional information for members, and subject to change until a final decision is made by the 19 AF/CC.

3.3. The 19 AF Corporate Process structure is comprised of three formal executive bodies (Group, Board, and Council) to make decisions and/or develop positions on key issues. The Corporate Process structure includes input from 19 AF/CC, 19 AF/CD, 19 AF/CS, 19 AF/COE, 19 AF/JA, and 19 AF/SE, and will meet as required to make quality, informed decisions on resources. At a minimum, it will address decisions affecting the Execution Plan (EP), Mid-Year Review (MYR), Initial Distribution (ID), Unfunded Requirements (UFR), Program Objective Memorandum (POM), Flight Training (FT), and Strategic Resourcing Decisions (SRD).

3.4. 19 AF/CC owns the Corporate Process structure and chairs the Council; 19 AF/CD chairs the Board; 19 AF/COE chairs the Group for EP, ID (reference Attachment 2), POM and SRD (reference Attachment 1). The Group Chair provides oversight for the Groups Corporate Process activities. Additional resource decisions will be chaired and managed by the respective resource owner throughout the process.

3.5. 19 AF/FM will act as recorder, prepare minutes of meetings, and provide them to Corporate Process members.

3.6. Calendar. The 19 AF Corporate Process members should plan to review resources for the following events subject to AETC and Air Force timelines.

Month	Event
December/January	POM
March/April	MYR, UFR
June/July	SRD, FT Panel, EP
September/October	ID

4. Program Objective Memorandum Corporate Process.

4.1. The 19 AF POM corporate process is responsible for developing and submitting the POM for the Air Force Future Years Defense Program. The 19 AF POM corporate process includes the 19 AF POM Group, Board and Council. The Group is co-chaired by 19 AF/FM and the 19 AF/CS and has Division representatives. Following the Group, the POM Board is chaired by the 19 AF/CD with the 19th Air Force Directors in attendance. Finally, the Council is chaired by the 19 AF/CC with the 19 AF/CD, 19 AF/CS, 19 AF/FM, and Directors in attendance.

4.2. Develop and submit the 19 AF POM to Air Education and Training Command Strategic Plans and Programs (AETC/A8) and distribute Air Force and 19 AF program guidance and program development instructions to headquarters staff, Wing Mission Elements, and panel champions.

4.3. Implement AETC/A8 programming directives and POM submission guidance and ensure the Air Force approved 19 AF POM is reflected in the Future Years Defense Program.

4.4. Ensure appropriate amendments to program guidance and directives are correctly interpreted and implemented.

4.5. Ensure all new programs and changes to existing programs are corporately reviewed to identify support requirements and identify any secondary policy or resource impacts before the panel forwards the program or change for corporate review and deliberation.
