5.1.8.2. Quilted Thermals*:* Quilted thermal shirts and trousers are functional clothing items worn as an undergarment. While actively engaged in the work area quilted thermal shirts are authorized for wear uncovered.

7.1.9.1. (Added) Cold Weather Parka*:* The green cold weather parka with a fur-edged hood and GEN III- Level 7 Extreme Cold Weather Parka are authorized for use at Eielson AFB during the established winter period. When weather conditions warrant, the green cold weather parka and GEN III-Level 7 Extreme Cold Weather Parka may be worn with all uniform combinations. When the cold weather parka hood is worn over the head, a hat is not required.

7.1.10.1. (Added) The GEN III-Level 7 Extreme Cold Weather Parka will be worn with hook and loop fastener print last name, rank, and U.S. Air Force tapes coordinating with uniform worn. When deployed or TDY, Airmen must comply with local rules for wear/use.

7.1.12. (Added) Established Winter Period: The established winter period at Eielson AFB is designated as 1 October through 30 April. The following paragraphs through 7.1.17 outline wear provisions for arctic clothing.

7.1.13. (Added) Air Force Issued Cold Weather Gear: Personnel are authorized to wear Air Force issued cold weather gear not listed in DAFI 36-2903. Cold weather items must be consistent with Air Force uniform color and pattern. Wear is only authorized during the established winter period.

7.1.14. (Added) Arctic Wear: Arctic coveralls/jackets (e.g., Carhartts) and work gloves are functional clothing items designed for protection from the extreme cold. The gloves can either be coyote brown or black with a small conservative logo. They are authorized for wear only during the established winter period. Arctic coveralls will only be worn in the performance of duties that require a significant level of protection. They will not be worn when traveling to and from work or for extended periods when in the work center.

7.1.16. (Added) Unit Initial Cold Weather Gear Issue Guidelines: Due to the extreme temperatures experienced during the winter period at Eielson AFB, the Logistics Readiness Squadron will be responsible to provide a B-Bag, itemized in Attachment 1. Individual units are responsible for funding and outfitting members with appropriate cold weather clothing (e.g., Carhartts, reflective cold weather gear, cold weather boots) to allow mission completion.

7.1.17. (Added) Eielson Unit-Issued Safety and Cold Weather Gear: Individual issued gear is not authorized for off-duty use except in emergencies. Issued gear is intended to facilitate the ability to complete the Air Force and base mission. Wearing this gear for off duty purposes adds unnecessary wear and tear and increases replacement costs to the unit. Transiting to and from work or TDY is considered duty for the purposes of this restriction.

7.2.7.1.1. (Added) Black Watch Cap: The black watch cap (knit or fleece) is authorized for wear with any blue uniform combination in conjunction with outer garments as well as the Flight Duty Uniform (FDU) and Operational Camouflage Pattern (OCP) during established winter period. Blue uniform combinations include the blue service uniform, service dress, and PTG. Watch caps will be worn snuggly over the top of the head and present a tight fit appearance. Adjust cap so it fits squarely on the head. No bunching or sagging is authorized.

7.2.7.3.1. (Added) Coyote Brown Watch Cap*:* The coyote brown watch cap (knit or fleece) is authorized when wearing the PTG, OCP, and FDU during established winter period. Watch caps will be worn snuggly over top of head and present a tight fit appearance. Adjust cap so it fits squarely on the head. No bunching or sagging is authorized.

7.3.8.5. (Added) Ski/Face Mask: The black or coyote brown ski/face mask is authorized for wear during the established winter period. The mask portion will be removed when entering any base facility unless specifically authorized by the individual's commander.

7.4.4. (Added) Footwear: Winter style footwear (e.g., Mukluk, Danner, ski, Sorel, or vapor barrier boots) are authorized for wear with the PTG when traversing from a vehicle or dormitories to the gym. Appropriate footwear tread and/or traction devices should be used during icy conditions. Traction devices will be removed upon entering any facility.

A6.1.2.1. Functional Winter Clothing Items: The wear of unit issued specialized winter flight clothing to include black undergarments with the FDU is authorized during the established winter period.
