446th Airlift Wing Inspector General

All Air Force members have the right and responsibility to promptly report fraud, waste and abuse, violations of law, policy or regulations, abuse of authority, an injustice, or personal complaints to a person in their chain of command, the Inspector General (IG) or other appropriate channels (ref: DAFI 90-301).

You are protected from reprisal for filing a complaint under the Whistleblower Protection Act (10 USC 1034).

Although not required, you are encouraged to first take your complaint to your chain of command as this usually allows problems to be resolved more efficiently.

You may contact the IG in person, via email or phone.
