Whether visiting, serving, or living on Maxwell-Gunter, I am committed to fostering an environment where individuals, teams, and families are assured a dependable installation by/with/through which to accomplish their missions, train in their crafts, and raise their families. Our team is committed to sustaining a cooperative pattern of life and service grounded in sound risk management (safety) and dignity and respect practices. To this end, the command team and I have authored policies designed to strengthen these foundational principles and enable you to be a productive member of Maxwell-Gunter.
