4.2.2.2. Step Two. Add all the points from the first section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 42 points (minimum) to 70 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 1-7 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 42 points. Bullet lines 1-7 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 70 points.

4.2.2.3. Step Three. Add all the points from the second section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 12 points (minimum) to 20 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 8-9 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 12 points. Bullet lines 8-9 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 20 points.

4.2.2.4. Step Four. Add all the points from the third section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 12 points (minimum) to 20 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 10-11 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 12 points. Bullet lines 10-11 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 20 points.

4.2.2.5. Step Five. Calculate the composite percentage of each section. Divide each section's total points by the maximum points in that section, then multiply by each section's respective weighted value. Round your number to 1 decimal place (see Figure 4.2). Example: Nominee received 63 points in the first section. First, divide 63 by 70 to receive .9. Next, multiply this number 80 to receive a weighted value of 72.

4.2.2.5.1. First Section: Total section score should range from 48 points (minimum) to 80 points (maximum).

4.2.2.5.2. Second Section: Total section score should range from 6 points (minimum) to 10 points (maximum).

4.2.2.5.3. Third Section: Total section score should range from 6 points (minimum) to 10 points (maximum).

4.2.2.6. Step Six. Add each weighted section (from step five) all together in order to achieve an overall AF Form 1206 score. The overall AF Form 1206 score should range from 60 points (minimum) to 100 points (maximum). Example: The top section (48 points), middle section (6 points), and bottom section (6 points) added together equates to 60 points (minimum score).

4.2.3. Face-to-Face Evaluation Board Scoring Requirements.

4.2.3.1. Face-to-Face evaluation boards will be conducted for AMN, NCO, and SNCO categories of competition. All other categories of competition will be scored off of the nomination package and the AF Form 1206 scoring requirements.

4.2.3.2. Score each nominee independently with a numerical value between one (1) and four (4) points -- in half point (0.5) increments. Scoring legends are listed on the score cards for reference.

4.2.3.3. If a nominee is unable to attend the face-to-face evaluation boards, due to extenuating circumstances, that particular nominee will receive an average face-to-face evaluation board score. Absences must be excused by the nominee's Group Superintendent and/or First Sergeant prior to the day of the boards formally convening.

4.2.3.3.1. Average face to face board scores will be independently determined by each board member. Each board member will total their own board scores and then divide by the number of nominees that physically attended the board. That numerical value, rounded to 1 decimal place, will be used as their own average board score.

4.2.4. Overall Board Scores.

4.2.4.1. Overall board scores will be independently determined by each board member. Scores from both the AF Form 1206 and the face-to-face evaluation board will be added together to determine each nominee's overall board score. Overall board scores should range from 61 points (minimum) to 104 points (maximum). This board score will be used to determine the rank of each nominee for the board member's score card. The ranking of each nominee will be transcribed to the board president's score card to determine the winner.

4.2.4.2. Individual board members are not permitted to send the board president a tie between nominees. If a tie on an individual board member's score card exists, he/she will independently break all ties before providing rankings to the board president.

4.2.4.3. After all rankings have been transcribed to the board president's score card, the board president will total the scores for each nominee to determine the final order of merit. The nominee with the least number of points will be the ranked #1 and winner of their category.

4.2.4.4. In the event of an overall tie, the board president will use his/her's own score card to break the tie. If a significant scoring disparity still exists, the WG/CCC will provide results to the WG/CC for final determination.

4.3. Annual Award Board Scoring. Annual award nomination packages will be scored fairly and equitably in order to determine a final order of merit to include a winner for each respective category of competition.

4.3.1. Annual AF Form 1206 Scoring. Each section on the AF Form 1206 will have a weighted value. See Figure 4.3 for the weighted values.

Category of Competition	AF Form 1206 Sections	Weighted Value
AMN/NCO/SNCO CGO First Sergeant	Leadership and Job Performance in Primary Duty	80%
	Significant Self-Improvement	10%
	Base or Community Involvement	10%
Civilian Categories I/II/III	Job Performance	80%
	Significant Contributions/Achievements	10%
	Recognition	10%
Volunteer	Significant Volunteer Accomplishments	N/A
Team	Specific Accomplishments	N/A
Note: Scoring legends are listed on the score cards. For an example, see Attachment 7.

4.3.2. Scoring Calculations. Instructions to calculate the AF Form 1206 score is as follows:

4.3.2.1. Step One. Score each bullet on the AF Form 1206 independently with a numerical value between six (6) to ten (10) points -- in half point (0.5) increments.

4.3.2.2. Step Two. Add all the points from the first section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 114 points (minimum) to 190 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 1-19 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 114 points. Bullet lines 1-19 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 190 points.

4.3.2.3. Step Three. Add all the points from the second section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 24 points (minimum) to 40 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 20-23 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 24 points. Bullet lines 20-23 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 40 points.

4.3.2.4. Step Four. Add all the points from the third section of the AF Form 1206, which should range from 24 points (minimum) to 40 points (maximum). Example: Bullet lines 24-27 multiplied by 6 points each (minimum), equates to 24 points. Bullet lines 24-27 multiplied by 10 points each (maximum), equates to 40 points.

4.3.2.5. Step Five. Calculate the composite percentage of each section. Divide each section's total points by the maximum points in that section and multiply by each section's respective weighted value. Round your number to 1 decimal place (see Figure 4.1). Example: Nominee received 171 points in the first section. First, divide 171 by 190 to receive .9. Next, multiply this number 100 to receive 90. Finally, multiply 90 by 80% to receive a weighted value of 72.

4.3.2.5.1. First Section: Total section score should range from 48 points (minimum) to 80 points (maximum).

4.3.2.5.2. Second Section: Total section score should range from 6 points (minimum) to 10 points (maximum).

4.3.2.5.3. Third Section: Total section score should range from 6 points (minimum) to 10 points (maximum).

4.3.2.6. Step Six. Add each weighted section (from step five) all together in order to achieve an overall AF Form 1206 score. The overall AF Form 1206 score should range from 60 points (minimum) to 100 points (maximum). Example: The top section (48 points), middle section (6 points), and bottom section (6 points) added together equates to 60 points (minimum score).

4.3.3. Face-to-Face Evaluation Board Scoring Requirements.

4.3.3.1. Face-to-Face evaluation boards will be conducted for AMN, NCO, SNCO, and First Sergeant categories of competition. All other categories of competition will be scored off of the nomination package and the AF Form 1206 scoring requirements.

4.3.3.2. Score each nominee independently with a numerical value between six (6) and ten (10) points -- in half point (0.5) increments. Scoring legends are listed on the score cards for reference.

4.3.3.3. If a nominee is unable to attend the face-to-face evaluation boards, due to extenuating circumstances, that particular nominee will receive an average face-to-face evaluation board score. Absences must be excused by the nominee's Group Superintendent and/or First Sergeant prior to the day of the boards formally convening.

4.3.3.3.1. Average face to face board scores will be independently determined by each board member. Each board member will total their own board scores and then divide by the number of nominees that physically attended the board. That numerical value, rounded to 1 decimal place, will be used as their own average board score.

4.3.4. Overall Board Scores.

4.3.4.1. Overall board scores will be independently determined by each board member. Scores from both the AF Form 1206 and the face-to-face evaluation board will be added together to determine each nominee's overall board score. Overall board scores should range from 102 points (minimum) to 170 points (maximum). This board score will be used to determine the rank of each nominee for the board member's score card. The ranking of each nominee will be transcribed to the board president's score card to determine the winner.

4.3.4.2. Individual board members are not permitted to send the board president a tie between nominees. If a tie on an individual board member's score card exists, he/she will independently break all ties that exist before providing rankings to the board president.

4.3.4.3. After all rankings have been transcribed to the board president's score card, the board president will total the scores for each nominee to determine the final order of merit. The nominee with the least number of points will be the ranked #1 and winner of their category.

4.3.4.4. In the event of an overall tie, the board president will use his/her's own score card to break the tie. If a significant scoring disparity still exists, the WG/CCC will provide results to the WG/CC for final determination.
