This instruction prescribes guidance and procedures for Air National Guard (ANG) units deploying Outside the Continental United States (OCONUS) or interacting with foreign forces within the United States. It implements DODI 1215.06 Uniform Reserve, Training and Retirement Categories for the Reserve Components, AFDP 3-0 Operations and DAFPD 16-1 Security Cooperation. This instruction applies to ANG units, the National Guard Bureau (NGB), Air National Guard advisors and integrated staff.

Ensure all records generated because of processes prescribed in this publication adhere to AFI 33-322, Records Management and Information Governance Program, and are disposed in accordance with the Air Force Records Disposition Schedule, which is in the Air Force Records Information Management System. Refer recommended changes and questions about this publication to the office of primary responsibility (OPR) using the DAF Form 847, Recommendation for Change of Publication; route DAF Forms 847 from the field through the appropriate functional chain of command.

This publication may be supplemented at any level, but all supplements must be routed to the OPR of this publication for coordination prior to certification and approval. The authorities to waive wing, unit, delta, or garrison level requirements in this publication are identified with a Tier ("T-0, T-1, T-2, T-3") number following the compliance statement. Submit requests for waivers through the chain of command to the appropriate Tier waiver approval authority, or alternately, to the publication OPR for non-tiered compliance items. SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This document has been revised and should be completely reviewed. Changes include removing references to "International Activities" and inserting "Security Cooperation", updated "DODI 1215.19" to "DODI 1215.16", added Tier Waivers, updated left formatting, and updated several references.

1. General Information. ANG forces routinely interact with foreign forces, both within the Continental United States (CONUS) and while deployed OCONUS. They also frequently participate in training activities OCONUS. This instruction clarifies relevant policies and standardizes coordination procedures relating to ANG unit participation in these activities.

2. Activation Requirements for International Missions and Deployments.

2.1. Air National Guard members will be issued orders placing them in a status under the authority of Title 10 United States Code (10 USC; Title 10 orders) prior to performing official duty on land outside the United States and territories. Title 10 status ensures ANG members are protected by applicable Status of Forces agreements between the US and the host nation.

2.2. States have no authority to activate National Guard units into federal service. Therefore, in order to issue Title 10 orders for international travel, a unit must have either an approved deployment order (for example, from the gaining Major Command (MAJCOM) or written pre-authorization from ANGRC.

2.3. ANG aircrew frequently conduct training missions that take off and land inside the United States (U.S.) and territories but depart U.S. airspace. Common examples include fighter or tanker operations in Warning Areas which typically lie beyond the 12-mile boundary of international airspace. Such missions do not require ANG aircrew be placed on Title 10 orders if they remain outside foreign airspace.

2.4. Sorties that take off and land inside the United States and its territories generally require Title 10 orders if they do enter foreign airspace. If the only foreign airspace to be entered is Canadian airspace, and the type of mission is not a federal mission that requires Title 10 status, then ANG aircrew may be permitted to remain on orders under the authority of Title 32 (Title 32 orders).

2.5. There is no requirement for ANG units to be on Title 10 orders to deploy to any U.S. State or Territory. Units deploying to Alaska, Hawaii or Guam ensure the trip is coordinated with the ANG Advisor to Pacific Air Forces (PACAF). Units deploying to Puerto Rico and U.S. Virgin Islands, ensure the trip is coordinated with the ANG Advisor to U.S. Southern Command (USSOUTHCOM)

3. Control of ANG Forces deployed outside the United States and territories.

3.1. Administrative Control (ADCON). ANG members, when activated under Title 10, are assigned to the Commander of the 201st Mission Support Squadron (201 MSS) for ADCON, regardless of whether the activation is for contingency or for training. When ANG forces are activated and deployed outside the United States, they are concurrently attached for specified

ADCON to the Commander of Air Force Forces (COMAFFOR) for the destination theater. The theater COMAFFOR will normally delegate specified ADCON over deployed ANG members to the geographically closest Wing Commander. Specified ADCON responsibilities include force protection, discipline and other administrative responsibilities (AFDP-3-0, Operations, includes a list of specified ADCON responsibilities).

3.2. Operational Control (OPCON). OPCON is transferred between Combatant Commanders (e.g. from Commander, Joint Forces Command to Commander, Central Command) in accordance with Secretary of Defense (SecDef) orders, typically in a Deployment Order (DEPORD). ANG forces activated for contingency operations typically fall under the OPCON of the Combatant Commander in the destination theater (e.g. European Command, Pacific Command).

3.3. Training Deployments. Issues associated with training deployments generally fall in the category of ADCON responsibilities. If OPCON issues were to arise (e.g. the mission changes from training to operational during the deployment), OPCON would be exercised by the unit's gaining MAJCOM (e.g. Air Combat Command, Pacific Air Forces) unless specified otherwise in the deployment order. The National Guard Bureau, in the exercise of its ADCON responsibility, retains the approval authorities for ANG units as described in Air Force and Air National Guard instructions. Although approval authority may reside at NGB, deployed ANG unit commanders should coordinate issues affecting the deployment with affected Air Force commanders in theater, such as a host wing commander.

3.4. Contingency Deployments. ANG unit commanders should coordinate operational issues through their deployed chain of command. ADCON issues should be coordinated with both the deployed chain of command and the ANG Readiness Center.

4. Coordination of international military activities within the United States and territories.

4.1. Units will contact NGB Joint Staff International Affairs (NGB-J5-IA, www.ngb.army.mil/ia) at least 60 days prior to foreign military personnel visiting their base. (T-1) NGB-J5-IA will coordinate the visit with relevant offices and headquarters.

4.1.1. If foreign military officers or officials participate in familiarization orientation flights, then NGB-J5-IA will coordinate with the Air Operations Support Branch (NGB-A3OS) and other relevant offices to ensure compliance with coordination and foreign disclosure requirements in DAFMAN 11-401, Aviation Management.

4.2. When transporting foreign nationals on ANG transport aircraft, ANG units will comply with guidance in ANGI 10-201, Air Transportation.

4.3. Any training with foreign military personnel requires Deputy Undersecretary of the Air Force for International Affairs (SAF/IA) approval to ensure compliance with foreign disclosure and engagement policies. Therefore, ANG units will obtain approval of SAF/IA and Director, ANG Operations (NGB/A3) prior to conducting training with foreign military forces unless in the context of an approved exercise (e.g. Red Flag) or training program (e.g. 162 FW International F-16 Training). ANG Units are responsible for ensuring that training events involving foreign air forces comply with applicable foreign disclosure guidance from SAF/IA. (T-2)

5. Coordination of non-contingency ANG deployments outside the United States and territories.

5.1. ANG Functional Area Managers (FAMs) schedule and coordinate ANG international deployments for training to include deployments such as State Partnership Program (SPP) and Mobile Training Teams (MTT). Therefore, units will coordinate all proposed international deployments with the relevant FAMs at the National Guard Bureau. (T-0) The FAM is responsible for coordinating the proposed deployment with affected active-duty MAJCOM(s), ANG advisors, and Headquarters Air Force. The FAM will also coordinate the publication of written authorization to place the deploying ANG members on Title 10, such as a MAJCOM DEPORD or letter from ANG Readiness Center. (T-1)

5.2. If foreign military officers or officials will participate in familiarization orientation flights while the ANG unit is overseas, then units must comply with coordination and foreign disclosure requirements in DAFMAN 11-401, Aviation Management. The unit will submit a request to NGB-J5-IA at least 60 days prior to deploying. (T-2)

5.3. All OCONUS deployments must comply with the theater and country specific instructions and coordination requirements in the Foreign Clearance Guide https://www.fcg.pentagon.mil/ and support the US Air Force Security Cooperation Strategy (SIPRNET address: http://afsck/af.pentagon.smil.mil).

6. International Mobility Missions. All international mobility missions require an approved ANG mission number from ANG Deployments Execution Branch (NGB/A3XE). The passengers and cargo carried aboard these missions must meet all applicable eligibility requirements IAW ANGI 10-201, Air Transportation. Airlift will be approved only if it's the most cost-effective mode of transportation available. NGB/A3XE will determine mission funding requirements on a case-by-case basis. (T-1)

7. Resourcing. ANG units have no authority to unilaterally negotiate agreements, verbal or written, with foreign governments. Coordination of international agreements must follow the policies described in AFI 51-403, International Agreements.
