SUMMARY OF CHANGES

Recent changes to this publication include revision of language to account for the establishment of the United States Space Force and clarification of AFPAA's responsibilities to all components of the Headquarters Air Force and the two services.

1. Mission. The agency prepares all assigned active forces for the Department of the Air Force, joint, or combined operations in the roles of force support and sustainment, power projection, and military operations other than war. As the Regular Air Force (RegAF) Department of the Air Force Combat Camera (COMCAM) force provider, AFPAA provides aerial and ground COMCAM capability to document operations and support activities to supported Air Force, Space Force and joint commanders. It manages and provides Air Force and Space Force video production capability supporting senior leader strategic themes and messages. AFPAA protects and manages all Air Force and Space Force symbols and marks. It also accomplishes several Department of the Air Force-wide public affairs operations supporting the Office of the Secretary of the Air Force for Public Affairs (SAF/PA) and Air Force and Space Force senior leadership. The agency serves as the Air Force- and Space Force-wide Public Affairs aerial program manager, the Air Force- and Space Force-wide Visual Information program manager, and the Air Force- and Space Force-wide Public Web program manager. This organization is a field operating agency of SAF/PA.

2. Command. The Commander, AFPAA:

2.1. Reports directly to the Office of the Secretary of the Air Force for Public Affairs (SAF/PA);

2.2. Commands personnel assigned to AFPAA. Organizes, trains and equips the Regular Air Force (RegAF) COMCAM force with appropriate resources and infrastructure to accomplish the AFPAA mission on behalf of the Secretary of the Air Force (SecAF), as outlined in CJCSI 3205.01D, DODI 5040.02, and DODI 5040.07, and contained herein (or as directed). Deploys these forces in support of Air Force, Space Force, joint and combined operations on the ground and on aerial platforms in support of the full spectrum of military operations in conventional and special operations environments; and

2.2.1. Manages all training requirements, including initial and continuation qualifications and tasks, for the COMCAM and Public Affairs global aerial photographer program as outlined in AFMAN 11-2AP Vol 1, Combat Camera Aircrew Training, and AFMAN 11-2AP Vol 2, Combat Camera Evaluation Criteria.

2.3. Provides operational control over the 1st Combat Camera Squadron, the 2d Audiovisual Squadron, the 3d Audiovisual Squadron, and any associated operating location aligned to the squadrons;

2.4. Performs administrative control and support for the Department of the Air Force National Media Engagement Office in New York City, New York, the Department of the Air Force National Entertainment Liaison Office in Los Angeles, California, and the Department of the Air Force Public Affairs military assignment team at the Air Force Personnel Center at Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, Texas.

3. Responsibilities. The Commander, AFPAA, shall:

3.1. Prepare and employ active Department of the Air Force COMCAM forces to provide aerial and ground documentation of missions across the full spectrum of military operations;

3.2. Manage the Department of the Air Force audiovisual production program as outlined in DODI 5040.07 and employ audiovisual production capability through its 2d and 3d Audiovisual Squadrons, to support the SecAF, Chief of Staff of the Air Force (CSAF), Chief of Space Operations (CSO), and other Air Force and Space Force senior leaders. These audiovisual productions support Department of the Air Force strategic themes and messages, public and command information, documentary, recruitment, and training development. Also, provide support to Major Commands (MAJCOMs) and Field Commands (FLDCOMs) with capability within their commands related to warfighting requirements;

3.3. Protect and manage all Department of the Air Force symbols and marks through the Air Force Branding and Trademark Licensing program, by negotiating the authorized use of Air Force and Space Force symbols and marks with commercial entities;

3.4. Execute Department of the Air Force public affairs missions supporting SAF/PA and the Department's public affairs functional community including:

3.4.1. Provide Air Force and Space Force public website operations, management, quality assurance, and compliance;

3.4.2. Provide Air Force and Space Force visual information management, including managing the audiovisual production program, the Defense Visual Information Activity Number (DVIAN) program, and serve as global Department of the Air Force final approval authority for any proposed visual information-related mission contracted with a commercial entity;

3.4.3. Provide support to the Air Force and Space Force public affairs career field managers to enhance career field professional development;

3.4.4. Provide centralized Air Force and Space Force band music licensing support and consultation;

3.4.5. Provide management of the Department of the Air Force's global public affairs equipment budget and lifecycle management of global public affairs and visual information mission equipment; and

3.4.6. Provide global centralized management and oversight of PE12890, Visual Information and Combat Camera; and PE91214, Public Affairs, and

3.4.7. Provide global lead management of emerging technology missions related to PA; and

3.4.8. Provide global oversight of a centralized contracting function supporting the PA enterprise and all its operational missions, equipment, and infrastructure;

3.4.9. Provide oversight and management of systems or tools for the DAF PA enterprise used to manage all facets of PA operations at all levels; and

3.4.10. Perform other missions as assigned by the Director, SAF/PA.

3.5. Manage all requirements levied upon the SecAF, CSAF and CSO as service secretary and chiefs of the military departments, respectfully, in DODI 5040.02 and 5040.07 and further defined in AFI 35-101, Public Affairs Operations, and AFMAN 35-101, Public Affairs Procedures.

4. Direct Communication. Communicates with officials and staff assigned to the Secretariat, Air Staff, Office of the CSO (OCSO), MAJCOMs, FLDCOMs, Numbered Air Forces, all Space Force Components, FOAs, DRUs, the Air National Guard, DAF units and installations, sister services, the Department of Defense, other government agencies, and commercial entities, on matters of direct interest to AFPAA's mission areas and responsibilities.

5. Relationships with Other Units or Agencies. AFPAA may coordinate directly with other agencies to avoid duplication of effort, increase mission effectiveness, and promote collaboration and mutual support of public affairs activities.
