SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This publication is substantially revised from the previous version and must be completely reviewed. Major changes include recent programmatic and publication changes, Headquarters Air Force (HAF) realignment, and changes to the partner programs under MA. It integrates the CARM Program into MA policy. In addition, this publication revises and establishes the roles and responsibilities of HAF, major commands (MAJCOM), field operating agencies (FOA), and direct reporting units (DRU) for MA.

1. Policy. It is Air Force policy to prioritize Mission Assurance efforts to fulfill critical DoD and service-specific strategic missions. These include DoD or component-level mission-essential functions and combatant command execution of operations plans, concept plans, and core joint mission-essential task. The Air Force shall:

1.1. Establish policy and implement MA as a process to protect or ensure the continued function and resilience of capabilities and assets by refining, integrating, and synchronizing the aspects of the Air Force Mission Assurance-Related Programs and Activities (MARPA) in accordance with DoDD 3020.40. Authorizes and establishes Deputy Chief of Staff Operations (AF/A3) as the Air Force's OPR with sufficient authorities to accomplish assigned tasks including MA process execution across the AF. Maintains CARM Program and associated program element code (PEC) to execute DCI requirements.

1.2. Appoint a general officer or member of the senior executive service (SES) from AF/A3 as the AF MA lead, responsible for integrating MA efforts across the AF.

1.3. Establish an MA Forum, and processes necessary to synchronize the MARPAs and provide an enterprise-wide, integrated organizational perspective to MA policy development, risk management framework, resource advocacy, oversight, implementation, and training.

1.4. Implement the DoD MA Construct and incorporate the CARM Program to identify, assess, manage, and monitor the risk to task critical assets and DCI deemed essential to strategic mission execution.

1.5. Collect, analyze, and disseminate MA-related information enhancing risk-management decision processes to execute the National Defense Strategy.

1.6. Direct all AF tenant units on an installation or residing in separate defense agency-owned or commercial leased spaces, to participate in applicable installation MA structures and processes. AF owned installations or spaces shall include DoD tenant units in applicable installation MA structures and processes.

1.7. Direct specific functional offices to assume OPR duties for each program falling under the MA umbrella. At the same time, directs these OPRs to continue these duties and incorporate the MA guidance necessary to synchronize and integrate program objectives. The Air Force MARPAs derived from DoDD 3020.40 are listed in Table 1

Terms

Asset—A distinguishable entity that provides a service or capability. Assets are people, physical entities, or information located either within or outside the United States and employed, owned, or operated by domestic, foreign, public, or private sector organizations.

Defense critical asset (DCA)—An asset of such extraordinary importance to operations in peace, crisis, and war that its incapacitation or destruction would have a very serious, debilitating effect on the ability of the DOD to fulfill its missions.

Defense critical infrastructure (DCI)—Department of Defense and non-Department of Defense networked assets and facilities essential to project, support, and sustain military forces and operations worldwide.

Hazard—A condition that potentially causes injury, illness, or death of personnel; damage to or loss of equipment or property; or mission degradation.

Infrastructure—The framework of interdependent physical and cyber-based systems comprising identifiable industries, institutions (including people and procedures), and distribution capabilities that provide a reliable flow of products and services essential to the defense and economic security of the United States, to the smooth functioning of government at all levels, and to society as a whole.

Integration—The arrangement of efforts to reduce redundancy and operate as a whole.

Mission Assurance (MA)—A process to protect or ensure the continued function and resilience of capabilities and assets – including personnel, equipment, facilities, networks, information and information systems, infrastructure, and supply chains – critical to the execution of DoD mission-essential functions in any operating environment or condition.

Mission Assurance assessment (MAA)—Assessment of the discipline under the mission assurance umbrella (antiterrorism; DCI; chemical, biological, radiological, nuclear, and high-yield explosive preparedness; chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear survivability; emergency management; cybersecurity; explosives safety; physical security; continuity of operations, force health protection) to identify vulnerabilities and gaps that could prevent accomplishment of a unit, installation, or higher authority mission.

Mission Assurance Construct—The DoD-wide risk management approach that synchronizes and integrates aspects of multiple security, protection, and risk management efforts throughout DoD to manage the risk to the Department's strategic missions. The MA Construct is made up of four process: identification, assessment, risk management, and monitoring.

Mission Assurance Coordination Board (MACB)—A Governance structure co-led by OSD and JS focused on issue resolution for defense critical assets (DCAs) and select task critical assets (TCAs).

Risk—The probability and severity of loss linked to threats or hazards and vulnerabilities.

Risk management—A process by which decision makers accept, reduce, or offset risk and subsequently make decisions that weigh overall risk against mission benefits. Risk management is composed of risk assessment and risk response.

Task critical asset (TCA)—An asset of such extraordinary importance that its incapacitation or destruction would have a serious, debilitating effect on the ability of one or more DoD or OSD Components to execute the capability or mission-essential task it supports. TCAs are used to identify defense critical assets (DCAs).

Threat—An adversary having the intent, capability, and opportunity to cause loss or damage.

Vulnerability—A weakness or susceptibility of an installation, system, asset, application, or its dependencies that could cause it to suffer a degradation or loss (incapacity to perform its designated function) as a result of having been subjected to a certain level of threat or hazard.
