Communication Guidelines for Helping Victims of Sexual Assault:

- MANDATORY REPORTERS:
  - Instructors
  - MTLs
  - 1st Sgt
  - Commanders
  - MFLC Counselors
  - Security Forces

  - Mandatory Reporters are required to contact AFOSI and the SAPR staff when informed of sexual assault. AFOSI will initiate an investigation regardless if the victim files an unrestricted report.

- If you're a mandatory reporter according to the list above, here is how you can still help:

  -If you believe someone is about to disclose a sexual assault to you, it's okay to stop them.

  - Example of what to say:
  Let me stop you for a moment. I want you to know I'm here for you and ready to listen if you need help, but I don't want you to lose any options that may be available. If you think you might like to speak with the SAPR Office, before we continue this discussion, I can put you in touch with them immediately. Just know that if you disclose a sexual assault to me, I will have to report that assault to law enforcement.

- If a friend shares with you a sexual assault incident in which they were the victim, that conversation can stay between you and the victim. However, the friend or the victim can call the SAPR office to get help without being required to file a restricted or unrestricted report.
