SUMMARY OF CHANGES

This is the first publication of AFI 36-502, substantially revising AFRs 40-312 and 40-112. It updates, clarifies, and streamlines previous guidance on managing civilian personnel resources.

(NELLISAFB) This document has been changed to update committee members, to reflect current organizational codes and change the subsequent paragraph numbers.

1. Objective. The Air Force needs to manage civilian human resources within budget while balancing:

- Mission needs.
- Operational economy and efficiency.
- Skills and career paths.
- Employee development and motivation.
- Recruitment and retention of competent people.

2. Civilian Resource Management Responsibility. Civilian resource management responsibility is assigned down through the Air Force chain of command from the Secretary of the Air Force to commanders of major commands (MAJCOM) or comparable organizations, to subordinate commanders on down to first-level supervisors. Each manager who employs civilian personnel within the chain of command must manage civilian resources properly and is accountable for their immediate supervision. Managers and supervisors at each level must evaluate their subordinate supervisors on how well they manage their civilian resources and take appropriate action to correct or reward managers" performance.

2.1. All managers and supervisors:

- Match civilian appointments (permanent, term, or temporary) to the projected length of the workload and the available funding. Appoint employees on a temporary basis when execution year dollars are used to fund the position from other than civilian pay. Make sure that employee work schedules accommodate both the employees" needs and the efficient and effective accomplishment of the mission.
- Make sure the Air Force Resource Allocation process approves reprogramming of civilian pay funds prior to committing to long-term resource management plans (decisions that commit resources for more than 2 years). Exercise personnel management authority to minimize adverse impact on the civilian workforce. Track civilian resource costs and take action to ensure successful budget execution.
- Tell the corporate board about surplus funds for redistribution (see paragraph 2.2).
- Prepare an employment plan for the following fiscal year, not later than March of each year.

2.1.1. Managers and supervisors must set up positions and compensate and reward personnel within their civilian resource budget and in accordance with:

- Applicable authorities.
- Sound management practices.
- The advice and assistance of manpower, comptroller, and personnel specialists.

2.2. MAJCOMs, field operating agencies, direct reporting units, and installation commanders establish a corporate board to make sure that civilian resources are used most efficiently and effectively. The commander or designated representative chairs the board, which includes functional managers and representatives from the civilian personnel, financial management, and manpower communities. The board:

- Reviews civilian resource management operating budget submissions at installation level.
- Periodically reviews employment plans and compares civilian pay expenditures against budgetary targets. Provides managers and supervisors with targets for the civilian resource operating budget, allocates directed adjustments, and redistributes any surplus funds.
- Establishes instructions on civilian resource management for the installation.

2.2.1. (Added-NELLISAFB) The Nellis Human Resource Management Committee (HRMC) serves to ensure civilian resources are used efficiently and effectively. The HRMC:
