Protecting PII – E-Mail

- Exercise caution before transmitting.
  - Sending PII to a personal e-mail address is strictly prohibited.
  - Do not send sensitive PII protected under the Privacy Act (PA) (including attachments) to distribution lists, group or organizational email addresses unless each member of the list, group or organizational box has an official need to know and the email is encrypted. When in doubt, send encrypted only to individual accounts.
  - Protection methods include DoD PKI encryption of official email
  - Do not disclose sensitive PII protected under information security to anyone outside DoD unless specifically authorized by the Privacy Act system of record notice or individual
  - Ensure all recipients have an official need to know, including "cc" addressees
  - Safe Access File Exchange (SAFE) is designed to provide users an alternative way to send files other than email. (File sizes up to 2GB) Go to https://safe.amrdec.army.mil/safe/
